

Chaoran Jin Joins Keystone Capital

April 2009

Keystone Capital, Inc. (“Keystone”) is pleased to welcome Chaoran Jin to the firm as a Vice President. An experienced operations professional in a variety of roles, Chaoran will be an integral part of supporting the management teams of Keystone’s family of companies with operational, strategic, and other initiatives.

Prior to joining Keystone, Chaoran was with Owens Corning as Site Leader and General Manager of two large manufacturing facilities in Chicago. Chaoran’s previous experience also includes broad-based consulting experience at McKinsey & Company in Chicago, the mergers & acquisitions department of Citigroup in Hong Kong, and in product development at Motorola’s mobile division. She holds a Masters of Business Administration from the University of Chicago, a M.S. in Electrical Engineering from the University of Illinois, and a B.S. from Tsinghua University.
